From Land to Legacy: G Square's Expanding Footprint in Maharashtra

Land ownership continues to be one of India's most enduring aspirations, representing security, flexibility and the opportunity to create long-term value. As buyers look for well-connected locations and competitively priced opportunities, G Square Housing is taking its plotted development model to Maharashtra, bringing its experience to a market with diverse and emerging real estate destinations.

A Vision Built on Leadership

Behind G Square's journey is the vision of Mr. Balaramajayam, Founder and Managing Director. His entrepreneurial approach, backed by a focus on strategic land acquisition, organised development and customer-centric thinking, has helped shape the company's presence in the plotted real estate sector.

The company reports a portfolio of over 150 projects, more than 10,000 acres of land delivered and a customer base of over 25,000 families—milestones that reflect its experience and growing footprint.

Strategic Locations, Compelling Value

G Square is extending its Maharashtra presence across Narpoli, Karjat, Khopoli, Dolvali and Chowk. These locations offer buyers the opportunity to consider land in strategic settings, with access to important growth corridors and the potential for value appreciation as the surrounding areas develop.

A key part of the proposition is its pricing approach. Through bulk land acquisition and operational efficiencies, G Square says it is able to offer plots at prices around 20–30% below prevailing market rates. For buyers, this can mean entering a promising location at a more competitive cost, with an attractive margin between the acquisition price and comparable market pricing. Such a value-led entry point may offer greater flexibility when buyers assess their future plans for the property.

The proposition is supported by planned infrastructure, secure communities, clear documentation and transparent transactions. Buyers also have the flexibility to build at their own pace, customise their homes or hold the land as an asset.

G Square enjoys strong relationships with leading financial institutions, enabling a seamless and mutually beneficial ecosystem for all stakeholders — landowners, lending partners and customers.

From Plot Ownership to Home Construction

Through its association with JSW One Homes as Home Building Platform Partner, G Square extends its offering beyond plot ownership. With Build Assist and 400+ brand tie-ups, customers can access support across construction requirements, from planning and material sourcing to the various stages of building, right up to moving into their new home. This integrated ecosystem aims to make home construction more seamless, convenient and cost-effective, while helping buyers make informed choices.

A Stronger Proposition for Maharashtra

G Square's expansion brings together strategic locations, competitive entry pricing, planned development and access to a construction support ecosystem. For homebuyers and investors evaluating land in Maharashtra, the company's proposition is centred on making ownership more accessible while offering the flexibility to build, hold or realise value in line with individual needs and market conditions.

For G Square, the ambition is clear: to make land ownership a more rewarding and seamless experience, from the first step of choosing a plot to the eventual realisation of its possibilities.
