with the ebbing and lethargy, Rahul is again embarking on an east-to-west yatra. I hope this second yatra does its job quickly, because we all fear that time could be running out. But having said that, I can say with some consolation and pride that while Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru (India's first Prime Minister) wrote The Discovery of India, his great-grandson is rediscovering and reviving the Idea of India.