professor, Centre for Modern Indian Studies, Gottingen University, Germany. His publications include Politics, Emotions and Ethics in 'New India' (2023), Politics of Post-Civil Society: Contemporary History of Political Movements in India (2013), Maoism, Democracy and Globalisation: Cross-Currents in Indian Politics (2014) and India after Modi: Populism and the Right (2018). He is currently an associate member of the Institute for the Humanities, Simon Fraser University, Canada.

Salman Khurshid Alam Khan served as the union minister of external affairs, law and justice, and minority affairs in the Government of India. He is also a designated senior counsel in the Supreme Court of India, a prolific writer and a columnist. A senior member of the Indian National Congress, he started his career as an officer on special duty (OSD) in the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) under Prime Minister Indira Gandhi. He was also the president of the Delhi Public School Society and the Dr Zakir Hussain Study Circle, and a patron of the Mother Teresa Memorial Trust.

Sandesh Bhandare is a photographer based in Pune. Trained as a graphic designer, he has worked as a professional photographer for more than three decades, with many solo and group exhibitions to his credit. He is the recipient of the India Foundation for the Arts (IFA) grant to photo-document the Tamasha folk art form and the lives of its performers in 2001. He has written Wari Ek Anandyatra (2015) and Asahi Ek Maharashtra in Marathi.

Darshan Mondkar has been a social and political commentator since 2010. His articles have been published in various leading news platforms such as The Citizen, National Views, The News Minute, HuffPost, The Quint and National Herald.

Dr Ganesh N. Devy writes in three languages. He is the founder of the Adivasi Academy at Tejgadh and the Denotified and Nomadic Tribes Rights Action Group. He is also the Samruddha Bharat Foundation's adviser. He