About the Editors

Pushparaj Deshpande is the director of the Samruddha Bharat Foundation. He is the series editor of the Rethinking India volumes, the Reshaping India volumes and the co-editor of The Great Indian Manthan: State, Statecraft and the Republic. He writes for numerous national dailies. He has worked with various legislators, the Rajya Sabha TV, the Rajiv Gandhi Institute for Contemporary Studies and the Indian National Congress. He is a former LAMP fellow with PRS Legislative Research. He walked in the Bharat Jodo Yatra and helped with civil society outreach and interactions in a few states. He tweets as @PushparajVD

Ruchira Chaturvedi is currently the national convenor of Social Media and Digital Communications, Indian National Congress, and has previously worked with the party in various capacities. She is also a Konrad Adenauer School for Young Politicians fellow and an American Council of Young Political Leaders delegate. She was a former LAMP fellow with PRS Legislative Research. She walked in the Bharat Jodo Yatra and coordinated its social media activities. She tweets as @RuchiraC