extradite
To give up or deliver an alleged criminal to another state, nation, or authority.

malware
Computer software meant to damage or disable computers or computer systems.

metadata
Data that describes or gives information about other data.

mononucleosis
A viral infection with symptoms of fatigue, sore throat, and swollen lymph glands.

surveillance
Watching closely, especially someone suspected of a crime.

telecom
Short for telecommunication, which is communications from a distance, such as by cable or broadcast.

warrant
A document allowing law enforcement to carry out an arrest, a search, or an information-gathering operation.

whistle-blower
A person who informs authorities about an individual or institution he or she thinks is involved in illegal activity.

Copyright © 2016. ABDO Publishing Company. All rights reserved.