set back US-Russian relations. Yuri Ushakov, a Russian presidential aide, said the issue was insignificant and should not affect political relations. The White House canceled a scheduled meeting with Putin because of the incident. One US legislator urged a boycott of the 2014 Winter Olympics in Russia, though the boycott did not take place. For the time being, at least, Snowden had a safe place from which he could watch the world both vilify and celebrate him.

ABANDONED IN HAWAII

Jonathan Mills, father of Snowden's girlfriend Lindsay, said in a January 2014 interview that his daughter was trying to make sense of things and come up with a plan for her future after Snowden left her in Hawaii. She did not realize he was the source of the NSA leaks until she heard it on the news. Mills said the couple had met in 2009 on an online dating site. In July 2014, Mills traveled to Moscow and began living with Snowden off and on; she could not stay permanently because of visa restrictions. She attended the 2014 Academy Awards program in February 2015 and joined Laura Poitras and Glenn Greenwald onstage to accept the Best Documentary Oscar for Poitras's film about Snowden, Citizenfour.
