Last, we thank our families and friends for their support—without them, none of this would be possible.