importance of adaptive strategies like information sharing in preserving the functionality of global governance structures amid political disruption.