10–11, 199; strategies to maintain legitimacy and membership of, 198–99; withdrawals from, 198
International Development Association (IDA), 40, 66
International Development Fund (hypothetical development organization), 159–60
International Energy Agency, 49 international finance, 64, 67, 115–17, 167
international financial institutions (IFIs): alternative, 70; analysis of, 64; appeasement strategies of, 116; and conditional lending, 115, 116–17, 123; criticism of, 158; effectiveness of, 69; examples of, 67, 68–69; global governance and, 115; legitimacy of, 69; policy interventions by, 69; populist attacks on, 67, 69
International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), 68
International Monetary Fund (IMF): anti-populist campaigns by, 20, 196; appeasement strategies of, 19, 117; austerity measures imposed by, 69, 116; bailouts by, 124, 143, 195; board meetings of, 41, 54; Board of Governors of, 65; and borrowing agreements, 65; and climate change, 76; collaborative approach of, 65, 95; collection of economic data by, 42, 92; and conditional lending, 29, 115–16, 117, 119–20, 120, 225; covert engagements of, 129, 132, 137, 138; criticism of, 220, 221; and debt-restructuring for Greece, 196–97; and engagement with local communities, 52, 53, 124–25, 213; establishment of, 64; eurozone crisis and, 169; Executive Board of, 65; expert bureaucrats in, 62; funding of, 40, 65; global economic governance and, 132; Greece and, 169, 195, 196, 197; headquarters of, 65; hybrid approaches of, 131; impact on domestic politics of, 127; information withholding from, 89; and institutional concessions, 209; and loan programs, 67, 77–79, 112, 147; mission of, 64–65, 74; Open Archives Policy of, 134; populists' tactics toward, 78, 79, 80, 131, 134, 137; and populist-style messaging, 153, 154, 196; protection of proprietary information by, 211; and public outreach, 78, 196; rallies against, 46; rebranding of, 146; redistribution of voting shares by, 221; re-entry mechanism of, 207; reforms of, 20, 209, 222; regional alternatives to, 38; responsibilities of, 65; on social media, 153, 195–97; staff members of, 65; voting system of, 217. See also Grays (pre-meeting written statements) international organizations (IOs): accountability of, 209, 223–24; adaptability of, 22–23, 63–64, 221–23; agency of, 25; and appeals to domestic audiences, 52–53, 127–28, 143, 146, 212; appeasement strategies of, 25, 29, 47–49, 112, 144–45, 207–11; autonomy of, 76, 90, 97, 223–24; benefits of membership in, 113–14; branding of, 145; bureaucrats in, 58–59; categories of, 67, 68–69, 89, 144–45; collaboration among, 90, 98, 204; competition among, 23, 39; confrontational strategies of, 46; covert engagement strategies of, 54–55, 130–31; criticism of, 3–4, 8, 75–76, 126, 140–41; decision-making processes of, 8, 13, 15–16, 217, 221; defensive tactics of, 15, 18–21, 27, 28, 70; dispute-resolution mechanisms of, 9; disruptions of, 11; "elitism" of, 92–93; emergence of, 38, 74; and engagement with populists, 29, 131, 199–200; evaluation of mechanisms of, 6; exit from, 34, 35, 36–37, 205–6; favoritism of, 114; funding of, 15, 39–40, 202–5, 203; global governance and, 4, 75; hostile actors within, 24; impact of co-optation on, 44–45; importance of public support for, 150–51; information sharing by, 26, 95–97, 98–99, 99, 100–101; information sources of, 26, 89–90, 91–92, 97–103; institutional framework of, 114–15, 208–9, 216–18, 219; instruments of, 6; leaders of, 58, 59, 60; media campaigns by, 214; member retention by, 120; misinformation about, 12; noncompliance by members of, 41–42; nonpopulist member states of, 17; operational structures of, 205; participation in, 113–14; and penalties for treaty violations, 206; populist attacks on, 1, 4, 6–7, 8, 10–11, 13, 18, 59, 60, 62–63, 76, 126–27, 167–68, 216, 222; populist-style messaging of, 26, 150, 152; power dynamics within, 22; proliferation of, 74, 75; and public opinion, 53–54, 60–61, 128, 129, 147–48; public outreach approach of, 20, 56, 63, 158, 162, 163, 165; public perception of, 7, 53, 55, 142–43, 150; reactive tendency of, 47; redundancies and inefficiencies of, 75, 205; re-entry mechanisms of, 206–7; reform of, 14, 209; resilience of, 2, 6, 24–25, 169, 200, 201; and response to populist pressure, 14–15, 28–29, 31–32, 34, 47, 62, 87,