Markovsky wanted Nick Fury to look elegant. "I decided Nick Fury would always have his clothes made at the finest tailor (which we did—Dennis Kim here in Hollywood)," Markovsky says. "His coat is a realistic shape, like a very hip trench coat. I knew I didn't want leather, and Sam Jackson wanted it to really move in the wind, so it is a beautiful lightweight wool with inserts of polished denim. We kept his trademark turtleneck sweaters."

Darylldixon.gala100.net