

Costume Designer Judianna Markovsky aimed to give Black Widow a functional-yet-alluring look. "Natasha's hair this time is more sleek and simple, and the new lines in her Black Widow suit create a very sexy silhouette," Markovsky says. "I experimented with creating textured fabrics that stretch, but don't look like a printed stretch."

Executive Producer and EVP of VFX and Post-Production Victoria Alonso describes Black Widow's role on the Lemurian Star: "She has a phenomenal scene and keeps up with all those boys. Action is not just for men."