ARMY DRONES

Each of the Drone designs would take a strong inspiration from the branch of the military in which it was intended to serve. The Army Drone took the feel of modern infantry, with a variety of weapons designed for both short- and long-range combat.

Riva: "Everybody thinks of them as foot soldiers, but they're also tanks and things like that. So the Army [Drones] have these giant cannons, like the ones that you see on tanks."
