

Meinerding: "We would talk to the storyboard artists and work with Jon to figure out how much damage he needed to take, because if you set a guy without a suit on versus Iron Man, does it seem like one is weighted? Obviously Iron Man is encased in a suit, even if it's a lesser suit [the Mark V], so it was a tricky balance between trying to understand how much exoskeleton we needed to put on him; how protected he needed to be."
