

Set photo

Riva: "You've got to remember you drag the audience along with you, so they have to feel comfortable in that world. You don't want them sitting around asking, 'How does this work? How does that work?' You want them to follow the story."