

1: …and tears upward—

2: —oil spurting like blood on a samurai battlefield…

3: …finishing off the wretched automaton.

4: War Machine surveys the Japanese Garden…

5: …ready for whatever comes next.

Favreau: "As you start to shoot the effects, you start to see that there are certain adjustments that have to be made. But the spark and the core and the inspired idea still very much comes from Genndy, and I tried to really nurture that and preserve that."
