

Jeremy Latcham—Co-Producer: "Ryan Meinerding, who is one of the most talented concept artists in the entire industry, we thought he could do something cool with Whiplash. So let's take this and do something new, and how do we make it feel of the Iron Man world? I think the idea of going to the same artist that designed the Mark I to design Whiplash—you understand conceptually how they kind of make sense in our world."
