

Townsend: “And then we go underwater. Human action, hair, and cloth is really hard to do underwater. But we’ve got an Iron Man—so there’s no point shooting him underwater, either. So the entire underwater scene is also computer-generated. I think there’s one underwater shot where we used a hand against a green screen for Tony’s hand. Other than that, everything is CG.”