114.

“permits that neglect of quantum effects”: Letter from Petersen to Everett, April 24, 1957, in Barrett and Byrne 2012, p. 237.

“when applied to any measuring processes!”: Letter from Everett to Petersen, May 31, 1957, in ibid., p. 240.

“an infinity of possible worlds”: Byrne 2010, p. 182.

“sympathetic to [their] point of view”: Weiner to Wheeler, April 9, 1957, in Barrett and Byrne 2012, p. 232.

“given sacramental unction and expected to perform a redemptive act”: All in Margenau 1958.

had not had time to read the thesis carefully: Margenau to Wheeler and Everett, April 8, 1957, Everett Papers, http://ucispace.lib.uci.edu/handle/10575/1179.

“I simply do not branch”: DeWitt to Wheeler, May 7, 1957, in Barrett and Byrne 2012, p. 246. Emphasis in original.

“Do you feel the motion of the earth?”: Everett to DeWitt, May 31, 1957, in ibid., p. 254. Emphasis in original.

“touché”: DeWitt and DeWitt-Morette 1995, interview.

“relight his pipe seventeen times”: Cocktail party tape, Barrett and Byrne 2012, p. 307.

“You had to lean close”: Byrne 2010, p. 221.

“totally change his viewpoint”: Ibid., p. 221.

“doomed from the beginning”: Ibid., p. 168.

“could not understand the simplest things in quantum mechanics”: Freire 2015, pp. 114–115.

“afford people the guidance they needed”: Bricmont 2016, p. 8.

“new concepts by which to replace them”: Beller 1999b, p. 183.

“had a cigarette all the time”: Byrne 2010, p. 221. Emphasis in original.

“without things getting out in the newspapers”: Byrne 2010, p. 251.

“non-denumerable [infinity] of alternative Furrys”: Xavier conference transcript, p. 95, http://ucispace.lib.uci.edu/handle/10575/1299. Also Byrne 2010, p. 255.

Chapter 7

“[particle] theory group”: Bernstein 1991, p. 67.

“quite intense discussions”: Ibid., p. 68.