parts. All that is just for the sticklers out there; henceforth we'll be happy to say "the probability is the amplitude squared" and be done with it.